

Day-to-day Minutiae: A Sculptural Art Form

Posted By: Press Features on: July 17, 2016 In: News, Press Spotlight No Comments

Cybèle Young Creates Unique Sculptural Art Works

See more of her works in The Woven Tale Press Vol. IV #5

Just Around the Edges
(Lost-Glasses)
Japanese paper construction
33" x 29" x 2 1/2"

Young's works are inspired by the fleeting day-to-day minutiae that comprise everyday life. Young's miniature worlds are created by intricate handling of Japanese paper and the artist's copperplate etchings. In the application of her subconscious to mundane and often overlooked quotidian objects, teapots and umbrellas come to life in conversation, brassieres have thoughts, and armchairs develop to-do lists.